ARTIST TALK WITH RICHARD MOSSE RESCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 16 AT DAYTON ART INSTITUTE

Photographer’s work featured in Ravaged Sublime: Landscape Photography in the 21st Century

(DAYTON, OHIO) – November 10, 2016 — The Dayton Art Institute has announced that the Artist Talk with Richard Mosse, held in conjunction with the special exhibition Ravaged Sublime: Landscape Photography in the 21st Century, has been rescheduled for Friday, December 16, 6:30 p.m.

Tickets issued for the originally scheduled date of October 27 will be honored on December 16.

Mosse, as well as Edward Burtynsky, is featured in The Dayton Art Institute’s current special exhibition Ravaged Sublime: Landscape Photography in the 21st Century, on view through January 8, 2017. Ravaged Sublime presents nearly 30 monumental landscape photographs by the two internationally acclaimed artists. The special exhibition demonstrates the continued interest in landscape imagery, while revealing its evolution through the works of these artists.

Mosse was born in Ireland and is based in New York. He earned an MFA in Photography from Yale School of Art in 2008 and a Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art from Goldsmiths, London in 2005. He is the winner of the 2014 Deutsche Börse Photography Prize and in 2013 represented Ireland in the Venice Biennale with the The Enclave, an immersive six-channel video installation that utilized 16mm infrared film. Mosse has exhibited internationally, and his work is part of many public collections, including The Portland Art Museum; the Martin Margulies Collection, Miami; The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston; The Museum of Contemporary Art, Chicago; and The Nelson Atkins Museum, Kansas City.
Tickets for the Artist Talk with Richard Mosse are $5 for museum members and $10 for non-members. A special combination ticket that also includes admission to the special exhibition is $20 for non-members.
